THE VITALITIES LAB

understanding human experience in the context of the more-than-human worlds in which people move and live
Centre for Social Research in Health + Social Policy Research Centre, Faculty of Arts & Social Sciences, UNSW Sydney

NEWS

The Vitalities Lab is recruiting three postdoctoral fellow positions. These fellows will work closely with Deborah Lupton to build and extend the research capacity of the Lab. Applications close 14 April: details are available here.

Deborah Lupton is co-convening the Re/imagining Personal Data workshop, 1 October at UNSW. Further information and call for participants here.

PUBLISHED

EVENTS

18 March: Associate Professor Stephanie Springgay, Ontario Institute for Studies in Education, University of Toronto, gave a talk for the Lab about her walking methodologies research-creation

COMING UP ....

3 April, 3-4pm, CSRH seminar series: Deborah Lupton will present on her research using the story-completion method for health research. Details and registration can be found here.

TALKS

15 February: Deborah Lupton gave an invited talk on digital media, food and self-tracking as part of a plenary session at the National Obesity Summit, Canberra

14 March: Deborah Lupton presented an invited talk on design sociology at the Digital Design Ethnography symposium, Monash University, Melbourne

Contact: Professor Deborah Lupton
d.lupton@unsw.edu.au
https://csrh.arts.unsw.edu.au/research/areas/vitalities-lab/